PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR STRIKING OIL

According to word received from Halfmoon Bay this week, W. T. Drinnell, president of the La Honda Oil Fields Association, has given orders to have well No. 1 of the Association at La Honda cleaned out and all sands capped. The refinery at the Association at La Honda is nearing completion and soon expected to be in operation. This refinery will take care of the crude oil from all the wells belonging to the La Honda Oil Fields Association and will be operated by burning oil derived from the wells. Gasoline and lubricating oil will be produced.

The association has at present one well supplying 25 barrels daily, and it is hoped that within a short time several other wells in the vicinity will also begin producing in paying quantities.

At Purissima the C. C. Julian Co. is drawing from 12 to 15 barrels daily from their well No. 3. Well No. 2 of the same company recently gave promising indications at a depth of 450 feet. It is the plan of the Julian company to cap all oil sands encountered in this well and continue it to a much greater depth in an attempt to strike the great body of oil which is said to underlie this section of the country. The company has announced its intention of drilling to 600 feet. If no great flow of oil is located within that depth a large number of shallow wells will be drilled to tap the sands which are now being pumped.

While no very great flows of oil have been struck so far in this country, the high quality of the oil located has encouraged great investments in its exploitation. The oil is of a paraffine base, and is said to greatly resemble the well-known crude of the Pennsylvania fields.

RALPH DICKENSON GETS JAIL SENTENCE

Judge George H. Buck Thursday sentenced Ralph Dickenson to a $3000 fine or 300 days in jail. The sentence was the result of the conviction of Dickenson of assault in connection with the death of Jesse Secker who died on December 25 after an attack by Dickenson at Woodside.

Dickenson was at first charged with murder, and later with assault with a deadly weapon. The charge was reduced, however, when it was shown that Secker's death was caused directly by scarlet fever and indirectly by Dickenson's attack.

The fight in which Secker was injured took place in a Woodside saloon, where Dickenson was said to have beaten Secker over the head with the butt end of a shot gun. Secker was taken to the hospital, where it was found that he had suffered concussion of the brain. As a result of his weakened condition scarlet fever set in from which he apparently recovered. A relapse of the scarlet fever, however, caused his death.

At the trial Tuesday the testimony of Dr. Murphy of this city, who attended the young man prior to his death, was called to show that the death of Secker was the result of scarlet fever. The only other witnesses were Mrs. Mary Feltz, who was present at the time of the fight, and whose testimony was the same as that given at the inquest; and Dickenson who took the stand in his own defense. Dickenson denied ever having struck Secker.

The jury was out for 50 minutes and finally returned with a verdict of assault. The prosecution was conducted by District Attorney Stuart and his assistant, Edmund Scott. Albert Mansfield defended Dickenson.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECURES HEARTY SUPPORT AT BANQUET

The Redwood City chamber of commerce met with almost unanimous support from the eighty men of Redwood City who gathered around the banquet table of the Sequoia hotel Wednesday evening to discuss the future of that institution. Apparently facing dissolution and extinction, the chamber of commerce sent a call of help to the business men of the town. That call met with instant response and the local body was placed in a position in which it can function and be of service to this community. At this meeting $1850 was subscribed voluntarily by the men present to carry on the work of the organization for the coming year.

President C. H. Holt of the chamber of commerce presided at the meeting and called upon Frank K. Towne, one of the workers in the local chamber. Towne outlined the work that the chamber of commerce had done here in the past and touched upon the opportunities now open for further work. The chamber of commerce is directly responsible for the rebuilding of the Dumbarton bridge, Towne stated. It had done the pioneer work in securing the new high school site, and had put over many other proposals of benefit to the town and country.

The next speaker was Fred Drake, who as a member of the San Carlos chamber of commerce and as one of the founders of the local institution spoke candidly of the way in which Redwood City was neglecting its opportunities in not keeping its chamber of commerce at the top notch of efficiency. Drake also spoke of the Sequoia Union High School here which the chamber of commerce had been instrumental in providing. This should be exploited, he said, as it is one of the finest institutions of its kind in the state. The San Carlos body is also deeply interested in seeing Redwood City develop its harbor facilities, and Drake, it is always willing to help in this development.

In this connection C. H. Davies, a new arrival in Redwood City, spoke of the vast importance of the harbor, and urged its development. The availability of the harbor to Redwood City, he said, was phenomenal. This city has the only deep water port on the bay, he declared, which can be developed at anything like the small expense which will be required. Without any expense to Redwood City Davies said, the Pacific Portland Cement Company is in this development.

COUNTY VOTES $750 TO HELP BUILD HIGHWAY

The chambers of commerce of the peninsula are making a determined attempt to have the Bay Shore Highway included in the highway plans of the state this year. This roadway was not included in the report of the Committee of Nine appointed by Governor Richardson to survey the highway needs of the state. But, never the less, the organizations of this part of the state feel that they have a chance to get this included in the highway program of the state.

To aid them in their work in this line the board of supervisors of this county last Monday voted to pay $750 towards sending a delegation to Sacramento to the legislature to work for the project.

The appropriation by the board came in response to a request voiced by W. Pierson of Burlingame for the Burlingame chamber of commerce. The chamber itself was represented at the meeting Monday.

The counsel for the defense of the two men sought to have them liberated for the reason that the search warrants upon which their property was searched was issued in July and not used till August. THE FATHER OF OUR COUNTRY

TOMORROW the people of the United States will celebrate the birthday of George Washington. It is fitting and proper that we should do this as there has been no one person in the history of our nation who has so indelibly impressed himself upon the affairs of our country as has Washington. At a time when the destiny of the new country depended upon a wise man, a courageous leader and a skilled diplomat, Washington because of past performances was chosen. As Moses of old led his people out of the wilderness and into the Promised Land, Washington marshalled his little force and by the wisdom of his leadership broke the bonds of a mother country and placed our nation on the high road towards being the Promised Land for every oppressed people of the universe.

His was no easy task. The continental army which he was called to lead was small and untrained. They were not equipped with sufficient ammunition, arms or equipment. At times the soldiers did not even have sufficient clothing to keep them warm and in the rigorous climate of the east they suffered intensely. Washington suffered all of the hardships of his men. He never asked for anything that could not be given to his troops. He played with them, sang with them and prayed with them. He was more than their general. He was their counselor and friend.

After the victory was won and the little band of patriots had gone to their homes and had taken over the duties of farming and trade, Washington was called upon to again lead his people. This time as president of the new nation. He had no precedent to guide him. A representative democracy was a new form of government. Conditions were different in the little band of states than had ever confronted any ruler of the world before or since, but with the rare wisdom that prompted him at all times Washington became the president and history has recorded him as one of the most able rulers that any nation has ever known.

So we should celebrate Washington's birthday. We should keep his memory green in the hearts of the boys and girls who will soon be the citizens, the fathers and mothers of our great commonwealth. Washington was "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." We want him to occupy that position for all times with the people of the United States of America.

MICHAEL H. de YOUNG

CALIFORNIA lost one of its most distinguished citizens in the passing of M. H. de Young last Sunday. For more years than we can remember Mr. de Young has been a foremost actor in the affairs of our state. As the publisher of one of the most powerful daily papers of the West, this man who has dictated the policy of that paper, has worked for the welfare of his city and state. He has always been a staunch partisan and his paper has stood for the Republican party and its principles, for all of his associations have been with the Good Old Party.

Mr. de Young has been identified with practically every movement for the good of San Francisco during the past fifty years. He has served on countless committees and has done his part in bringing conventions and expositions to the city by the Golden Gate.

One of Mr. de Young's pet hobbies was the museum in Golden Gate Park, and through his interest in that institution he has placed it in the front rank of such places in the world. He has brought paintings of great beauty and articles of untold value, both historically and artistic, to the Memorial museum, so that boys and girls of his city might enjoy them.

Mr. de Young always stood for the best things. He wanted his paper, his city, his state to be known for their real worth. He was a man who has known many joys and many sorrows, the greatest of his sorrows being the loss of his only son who had just come to manhood, and after having been graduated from Stanford University, was taken by typhoid fever.

It is to be regretted that Mr. de Young was taken but his city can be thankful that it had a man of his caliber to live and labor for it for such a long period of time.

THE POWER OF PROGRESS

ALL real progress must be earned, and every advance, whether in an individual or a community is the result of effort put forth either by the one advanced or by some one for him. A town may grow and spread itself over the map with as little thought or system as the algae which spreads itself over the rocks on our sea coast. But real progress must be planned, directed and worked for. This planning, directing and working force in a community should be its chamber of commerce. Composed of the men who in every line of trade, are the most informed of the needs of their particular vocation and are the most interested in the general progress of the town, the chamber of commerce contains the germ, which if allowed to develop, will create a force for development in every branch of community life.

In Redwood City, as the result of certain unforeseen and unfortunate circumstances, the action of the chamber of commerce has been hampered and lately a crisis was reached when the future of the local body hung in the balance. Some of the leading citizens, however, have come to the rescue, and as the result, of the banquet Wednesday evening $1850 has been subscribed to carry on the work of the chamber through the year.

This amount is small, it is true, to carry on the work which should be done here. But even with this amount the local chamber will produce results this year which will insure it unhesitating support in the future. We say it WILL produce results. We should say it will produce results IF. If it receives the co-operation of every citizen as it should. If those who expect much of the chamber of commerce, will do a little themselves. If those who happen to be in the same line of business, here, will forget the fact long enough to help their competitors put Redwood City on the map.

We have a good chamber of commerce here. It is now up to every business man, every property owner and every citizen to work, boost, talk and then work some more to help the chamber of commerce put Redwood City over.

TEMPTING FOODS

When you are tired of squash served in the ordinary way try Squash Souffle.

Take two cups of mashed cooked squash; add gradually one cup of cream, and when well mixed, the yolks of two eggs, well beaten. Mix well, then fold in the whites, beaten stiff; salt and pepper to taste. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve at once.

Lettuce With Sherry's Dressing—Mix three-fourths of a cup of olive oil with five tablespoons of vinegar, one teaspoonful of powdered sugar, one tablespoonful each of chopped red pepper, green pepper and parsley, one teaspoonful of salt, one chopped Bermuda onion and a few dashes of cayenne. Put into a pint mason jar and shake for five minutes. Set on ice and let stand one hour before using.

Carrot Pudding—Take one cupful each of finely minced, grated raw potato, grated raw carrot, sugar, seedless raisins and currants. Add allspice to flavor and enough flour to make a soft dough. Place in a buttered pudding dish, then in a steamer and steam two and one-half to three hours. This pudding takes the place of plum pudding. Serve with a rich, hard sauce or an egg sauce.

Let Steam Escape—After filling a rubber water bottle with hot water always press the sides before putting in the stopper. This expels the steam, and there is little danger of the seams coming undone, no matter how hot the water may be.

$20,000 PROPERTY CAUSE OF SUIT IN COURT

Suit filed in the Superior Court of this county calls into question the title to property in South San Francisco valued at $20,000. The suit is filed by Ralph J. Cunningham, son of the late R. E. Cunningham, and is against the housekeeper and nurse of the deceased, Victoria Bell Cunningham. Cunningham claims the property as the only heir to his father's estate, while the defendant adduces a document dated April 1, 1924 granting this property to defendant in consideration of the services rendered by her to the deceased and the agreement of grantee to continue to serve grantor as housekeeper and nurse during the remainder of the natural life of grantor and the further consideration of $10.

It is the contention of the plaintiff that his father was at the time of signing, 54 years of age, weak in body and feeble in mind and easily influenced.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

Death last Wednesday took Mrs. Charlina Anderson, wife of Professor Melville Anderson professor emeritus of English literature of Stanford University. Mrs. Anderson was 71 years of age and had made her home here for many years with her husband, who was one of the first professors at Stanford University. Besides her husband, Mrs. Anderson is survived by one son, a geologist who is now in India.

George Casey, who was operated upon at the Lane hospital in San Francisco on Monday, is recovering and will soon be convalescent. Mr. Casey has been at the institution for a long time.

The total rainfall for the season is 10 inches, which is a little below normal.

George Casey, who was operated upon at the Lane hospital in San Francisco on Monday, is recovering and will soon be convalescent. Mr. Casey has been at the institution for a long time.

Mr. Ryan, the local hardware merchant, has awarded a contract for the erection of a modern bungalow on his property in Johnston avenue, near Santa Cruz avenue.

Next Monday the work on wrecking the old Fremont theatre building will begin. A modern brick building will take its place.

Robbie avenue and Live Oak avenue are to be the scene of much building activity very soon. Mr. Hampton is to erect three cottages on the former at once, while six or more modern bungalows are to be built within the next month on Live Oak avenue. The demand for cottages here is big and many will have to be built to supply the wants of the new comers to Menlo Park.

Edwin Smith has sold his property in Menlo Oaks. With his wife he will move to San Francisco to take apartments. Mr. Smith is the clerk in the postoffice department at San Francisco.

On Wednesday Norwood Smith of Palo Alto completed the deal whereby he secures possession of the Cotin block and on the next day disposed of the property to South San Francisco parties, cleaning up nearly $10,000 on the transaction. Moral: Now is the time to buy Menlo Park realty.

The ladies of the Church of the Nativity are planning to give a St. Patrick's Day celebration in the form of an entertainment and dance in the Hall of the Nativity on the evening before the 17th of March. In years gone by these celebrations were always successful in drawing big crowds from every section of the peninsula and no doubt the one planned will be a splendid success. Local and city talent will take part in the entertainment.

Edward Noble, who passed away in San Francisco last Monday, was well known here. He resided in the Flanagan cottage on Mills avenue and was a gardener at the Stanford Home for Convalescent Children. Mr. Noble was operated upon recently for appendicitis but did not long survive. His mother and two sons survive him. Deceased was a native of Richmond, Indiana, and was 51 years old.

Charles Merrill, chairman of the executive committee of the community chest drive in San Francisco, has devoted his time and energy to the noble cause during the past two weeks and through his efforts and other public spirited men, the drive was a success.

The base hospital has been designated by the government as one where those addicted to the use of narcotics will be treated. Only three other veteran's hospitals in the country have been permitted to give the treatment.

J. J. Tuttle, local agent for the American Railway Express Company, announced that the company will on March 1st give a lower rate for all inter-state packages. Recently the Inter-state Commerce Commission permitted the company to do this. The concern has an application filed with the commission for permission to lower the express rates in this state. This will be good news to shippers.

WOODSIDE

Woodside has been doing its full share of late toward supporting the San Francisco hospitals. James V. Neuman has just returned from a sojourn at St. Luke's. Hugh O'Neill who has had a return of his valvular heart trouble, is a patient at the University of California hospital; and Leslie C. Burnett is undergoing treatment at the Letterman hospital.

The Skyline boulevard which has been open to traffic as far as the Arata place, midway between the King's Mountain road and the road to La Honda has been closed south of the King's Mountain grade, owing to slides caused by the late rains. But the work is progressing steadily and it is expected soon to throw open this scenic roadway to the point of its intersection with the La Honda grade.

Mrs. James Atheron Folger is planning a trip to the Bermuda Islands to occupy the next two months. She will go by train to New Orleans and take boat there for the islands.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Audiffred had for week-end guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schmidt of San Francisco. A card party was given in their honor on Saturday evening and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mighall, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Helmer and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Gish were present.

Dr. J. L. Rose has leased both of his houses here and has taken down the 'For Sale' sign from his place at Little Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. L. Ross, Jr., have returned to their log cabin home, convinced that Woodside is the best place to live at all seasons of the year.

As noted last week, George Bogie is building a new house. It is rumored that he has tired of the joys of bachelor life and has arranged for a permanent housekeeper.

Robert Wilson, infant son of Fred Wilson, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Pritz Silva celebrated his seventh birthday on Monday with a real party to which all his school friends were invited. Although the weather was bad for parties it could not dampen the pleasure of the youngsters.

A vegetable truck found a soft place in the road on Wednesday and the total population of Woodside volunteered assistance. At that it took an hour and two tow ropes to extricate it from what seemed to be the owner's bottomless pit.

The rain gauge maintained at the James Huddart place shows a rainfall for the season of 24 1/2 inches. Charles T. Bradley has received a report that his resort at Emerald Bay, Lake Tahoe, lies under three feet of snow and that the bay is frozen over. Mr. Bradley spent one winter at the Camp but says he found that he wasn't sufficiently interesting company for himself for so long a period of time.

True to their time schedule the wild pigeons are here for their annual visit. However, widely they may travel during the year, the month of February is always devoted to visiting the oaks and redwoods of Woodside.

SAN FRANCISCO PLANS NEW ROAD TO COUNTY

What is considered to be the first step towards the construction of a new road from San Francisco into this county was taken when the San Francisco board of supervisors last Monday, approved a contract for the purchase of the right of way of the old Ocean Shore railway from Junapero Serra avenue to San Bruno avenue.

The right of way is three miles in length and will be acquired by the city on the installment plan. The city will be deemed one-third the mileage in 1925 upon payment of $30,000. A second third will be paid in 1926 on payment of $30,000 more and the last will be paid in 1927 on the payment of $30,000 last installment.

(The right of way is to be used as an additional automobile outlet through the southern section of San Francisco.)

AMALGAMATION COMMITTEE SUBMITS REPORT

The committee which has been making a study of amalgamation of this county with San Francisco for several months past rendered its final report at the meeting of the Consolidation Study Convention at court house here Wednesday evening. The report is a lengthy document in which every angle of the situation is considered and space for the consideration of it is full, important as it may in future become.

The report is itself, however, only a recommendation for further study of the problems that would confront this county in the advent of consolidation with San Francisco.

Some of these problems as outlined in the report are, financial equities, the bonded indebtedness of both counties and the taxable assets of both counties; the legal basis and existing laws which should be studied; physical considerations such as water supply; transportation and other public utilities.

A large attendance was at the meeting in the supervisors' chambers when the report was given. The committee consisted of the following men: F. A. Cunningham, South San Francisco; M. A. Harris, Atherton; M. A. Gunst, San Francisco; and Burlingame; M. A. Hope, Redwood City; Gordon Hess, Burlingame; W. B. Lawrence, Millbrae; and R. H. Waterbury, Redwood City.

In regard to taxation the committee recommended: The existing San Mateo County debt should be analyzed, and pro-rated over assessed valuations of governmental units within the county, to determine the percentage chargeable to each incorporated or unincorporated area that might be included in an annexation proposal.

In regard to the study the report says: With the bureau as the directing head and with one expert in charge of the field work, with two assistants and a stenographer, together with office equipment, rent, etc., the study, we feel, can be completed within six months, at an approximate cost of $15,000.

UNCLE OF LOCAL MAN MEETS DEATH IN CITY

Charles Bomberg, uncle of Reuben Bomberg of this city was struck and killed by an automobile in San Francisco Thursday, while at work for the street department. The driver of the car which struck the aged man was Samuel Mishkin, an insurance man of Oregon.

Bomberg was taken to the Harbor Emergency hospital, where he died from the injuries he had received. The accident was said to have been unavoidable by witnesses. For many years the deceased had been in the employ of the city and was to have retired with a pension on the last day of this month. He was a brother of the late C. F. Bomberg of this city, and was unmarried. He was 70 years of age.

RAIN FILLS CREEKS; LAKES STILL LOW

The water situation throughout the county has been greatly benefited by the copious rainfall of the past few weeks, and the creeks of the mountain district are flowing with a volume greater than at any time in the past three years. Water storage, however, has not been as great as was hoped. The ground had become so parched with the past dry year that the greater part of the water which has fallen has been absorbed locally and only a small amount has run into the reservoirs. Bear Gulch lake and the smaller lakes of the county are overflowing, but the large lakes of the Spring Valley Water Company are still below their normal level, in fact they are lower than they were last year.

The consumption of water in San Francisco is estimated at 40,000,000 gallons a day. With this amount being drawn daily from the lakes, except for the water brought from across the bay, there is little hope of the level being brought to anything like a normal height.

The company has stated that new subdivisions will be supplied with water this summer, that golf courses and other unnecessary consumers of water will not be supplied, and that ordinary irrigation will only be permitted within certain hours.

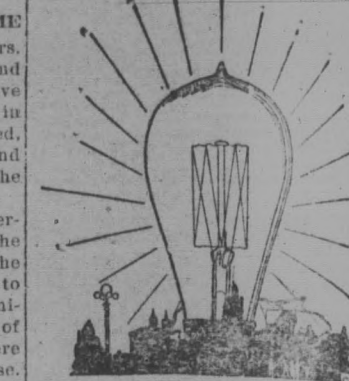

This condition not only affects San Francisco, but the entire northern part of San Mateo county, which receives its supply of water from the Spring Valley system.

A. W. Grimmerstein, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Edith, is spending the week end in Calaveras county. The former is attending to business interests in the mountain county. Mrs. Grimmerstein is visiting her mother.

FIRE DESTROYS VOLNER HOME

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Volner burned to the ground Monday as the result of a defective stovepipe. Mrs. Volner who was in the house at the time the fire started, heard a crash in the kitchen and found the pipe on the floor and the walls in a blaze.

The fire department was hindered in reaching the scene of the blaze by the bad condition of the street. The firemen managed to carry a line of hose from the chemical truck to the fire a distance of two blocks. But the flames were too far advanced to save the house. The loss was partly covered by insurance. Volner, it is said, was on his way to town to increase the insurance on his house when the fire occurred.
